

May 12

16:30-18:30

Room 12

Topic: Regional challenges & opportunities

Adaptation without borders: How policy and practice can address the indirect impacts of climate change

Programme

Chairs: Magnus Benzie, Henrik Carlsen

Time	Programme
16:30 – 16:45	Henrik Carlsen, Stockholm Environment Institute “Introducing a pathway-based conceptual framework to identify the indirect impacts of climate change” (#411)
16:45 – 16:50	Q&A
16:50 – 17:05	Laura Canevari, Kings College London / Acclimatise, Oxford “Adaptation beyond the firm: the role of networks in business environments” (#154)
17:05 – 17:10	Q&A
17:10 – 17:25	Johanna Hedlund, Stockholm Environment Institute “A global index of exposure to the indirect impacts of climate change and examples from Sweden” (Merger of abstracts #418 and #424)
17:25 – 17:30	Q&A
17:30 – 17:45	Tim Carter, SYKE Finland “Addressing implications of the indirect impacts of climate change for Europe exemplified with the case of Finland” (Merger of abstracts #162 and #431)
17:45 – 17:50	Q&A
17:50 – 18:30	Panel discussion: “Enhancing adaptation without borders: The need for closing the gap between research and practice” Chair: Magnus Benzie, Stockholm Environment Institute Lotta Andersson, SMHI, Sweden Henrik Carlsen, Stockholm Environment Institute Laura Canevari, King’s College London/Acclimatise, Oxford Christoffer Carstens, County Administrative Board Gävleborg, Sweden Mikael Hildén, SYKE, Finland

Short films: Global food markets and climate change – reducing vulnerability to rice price shocks in Senegal

Benzie Mr,
Magnus

Practitioner panel discussion – how to make use of information on indirect climate change impacts	Benzie Mr, Magnus
Research panel discussion – how to provide (better) information about indirect climate change impacts	Benzie Mr, Magnus
Trade as a climate risk pathway – trade models, food security and portfolio theory	Benzie Mr, Magnus
Indirect effects in Sweden of climate change in third countries, and the need to include awareness of and preparedness in climate adaptation policy	Andersson Ms, Lotta
Regional assessment of indirect climate change – case study in county of Gävleborg, Sweden	Carstens, Mr Christoffer